Greeting Families and Community Members,

School Board Report

It is our District's mission to provide every student with a safe, equitable, restorative culture and community, the opportunity to realize their full potential, access to an excellent 21st century education, and the skills and knowledge to pursue lifelong learning. Our Board of Trustees envisions our District as a marvelously diverse, welcoming, and inviting community of learners. As we enter into the 2019-2020 school year, we have been focusing on training our teachers and staff to use restorative practices in our schools in order to help bring about this mission in our District.

Restorative approaches are all about building community and strengthening relationships. Restorative approaches are based on the idea that when we feel part of a supportive community, we respect others in that community and become accountable to it. Schools across the country are being urged to adopt restorative approaches as an alternative to suspensions, which may disproportionately affect students of color. But restorative practices do more than supplant punitive approaches to discipline. They can dramatically improve the school climate and strengthen the social and emotional skills of young people and adults. Instead of using punishments and rewards to influence the way students behave, restorative approaches address the underlying reasons for students' hurtful behavior and nurture their intrinsic desire to treat others with care and respect. It is important to note that restorative practices benefit all students and helps all children build trust and connection to teachers, staff, and each other.

Restorative practices in schools are built around Restorative Justice, a theory of justice that emphasizes repairing the harm caused by misbehavior. It is best accomplished through cooperative processes that allow all willing stakeholders to meet, although other approaches are available when that is impossible. This can lead to transformation of people, relationships and communities. Restorative Justice and practices are built around core concepts:

Misbehavior causes harm and justice should focus on repairing that harm, the people most affected by the negative behavior should be able to participate in its resolution, and the responsibility of the school leader is to maintain order and of the community to build peace. The cornerstone of Restorative Practices are the inclusion of all parties to resolve issues, encountering the other side, making amends for the harm, and the reintegration of the student into their communities.

Many of our teachers and staff visited the Museum of Tolerance this summer as part of a grant program to help us develop restorative practices within our schools. 30 teachers, administrators, and classified staff all had the opportunity to visit the museum and learn about issues relating to trauma. This group explored the concept of tolerance, anti-racism, and delved more deeply into ways that we can strengthen the overall sense of inclusiveness and caring in our schools. This group worked with Dr. Aliah MaJon, an expert in the field of Restorative Practices, who helped facilitate learning and helped us develop strategies and techniques that we can implement right away in classrooms. Dr. MaJon will also be providing training to our entire District throughout the school year and will guide us as we implement restorative practices in our system. Many people are struck by the power and effectiveness of Restorative Practices. Restorative justice promotes a positive, orderly school environment. Students and all members of the school community can learn and practice self-discipline, empathy, and accountability.

If you want to learn more, I always invite members of the community to meet with me, attend Board meetings, visit us online (www.jsusd.org) or call my personal cell phone at 925-639-7408 to discuss any concerns or issues that may surface.

Rodeo Hills Elementary
Music Program

September 21, 2019

Dear RMAC Board,

Thank you for the opportunity to speak to the effort on behalf of the Rodeo Hills PTA to bring music classes to the school. My name is Bonner Odell and I serve as the Arts Education Chair on the PTA. I regret that I cannot join you in person tonight as the first PTA meeting of the year is taking place at Rodeo Hills.

When my oldest child, now 7 years old, started Kindergarten, I was saddened to learn she would have no access to arts education classes of any kind at Rodeo Hills. In my own work as a teaching artist in Bay Area public schools and as an arts administrator, I've seen first hand the power of programs in schools that include the full scope and sequence of CA standards in the visual and performing arts. I worked at an elementary school in East Oakland that made arts a priority, and watched the culture there flourish. Music concerts, plays and dance performances brought families together in meaningful and celebratory ways. At Kensington Elementary, I accompanied students to weekly music classes where they astonished me with their ability to harmonize, play complex group rhythms, and create group compositions under the teacher's guidance.

The arts are often considered supplemental in school curriculum, but watching my own kids, I see how foundational they are to childhood. Their creative instincts are so innate, and elementary school is the ideal time to start guiding those instincts into form. Research has proven again and again the power of music in particular to build important connections in the brain, nurture creativity and self-expression, and most importantly, increase students' engagement in school.

When I joined the PTA at Rodeo Hills in 2017, I learned that many parents felt the same way I did. Together we reached out to the school and district administration and learned that they too, wanted to see more arts programming at the school, but are limited by the current funding landscape. With their support we then reached out to the larger Rodeo Hills community to learn what they most wanted to see in terms of arts education at the school. We sent surveys to both teachers and parents, including in Spanish, via the school e-newsletter, paper flyers in backpacks, and emails to teachers from the principal. We wanted to know how important each group considered the arts to be within the school day, and which art forms in particular they would like to see taught. The results revealed that both groups feel strongly that the CA arts standards need to be included in the school day curriculum. They also revealed that if the school were to implement on-going classes, the most desired art-form among both parents and teachers is music. The parent surveys revealed that less than 14% of students at Rodeo Hills receive any kind of music education outside of school.

Shortly after we compiled the survey results, one of our PTA members learned of Music for Minors. The organization sends professional music teaching artists into classrooms for residencies up to 24 weeks. Music for Minors is highly acclaimed in the Bay Area and has over 40 years of experience teaching in schools. It currently works in 67 schools and receives consistently high approval ratings from classroom teachers.

In an initial phone call to learn more, we found out that the Music for Minors is looking to expand into our part of the Bay. Eager to work with us, the organization has offered to subsidize a residency by covering 25% of the cost through its own fundraising efforts. The PTA is seeking additional funding for the project from multiple sources including the Lesher Foundation, the Crockett Community Foundation, and the John Swett Education Foundation, private business sponsorships, and individual donations via platforms including GoFundMe. If we are to be successful, it is going to take a community effort. We would be very grateful for any amount that RMAC can contribute. On behalf of our kids, thanks so much for considering our request!

Sincerely,

Bonner Odell

STAFF REPORT – RODEO

Thursday, October 24, 2019

This outline summarizes recent activities in and around Rodeo:

- Concerns were brought up about Rodeo Hills Elementary and the traffic during the drop off and pick up for the school. Our office has been working with Public Works and a constituent in the neighborhood. Public Works has: repainted the red curb in front of the school, a 25 MPH sign was installed on Garretson Avenue, the vegetation was trimmed around an existing 25 MPH sign on Garretson, and a School Zone sign will be installed soon around Garretson Avenue and Lake Avenue.

- I continue to drive around town and take photos of illegal dumping and report it to Public Works. If you see something, please be sure to let me know. It is always best to take a photo and send it to me. I know the weed abatement goats were in town the other weeks and cleared the creek of the weeds.

Rodeo California

Dear Pastor Anthony Hodge and RMAC'S Members:

On behalf of Children and Families from Rodeo, The Rodeo Youth Mentoring Program is submitting a Full Grant Application for your consideration. These funds will provide Children and Family Events in Rodeo. The program will sponsor the following Community Events: Rodeo's Children Pumpkin Carving, Rodeo's Christmas Tree Lighting, Seniors Gift Delivery, RYMP Christmas Party & Gifts, Rodeo's Great Egg Hunt and Summer Family Gathering. Last but not least the Mentoring Program will also provide once a month children and families workshop to increase their knowledge in academics, parenting and health. This are productive and enriching events for children and families. These events are the only outlet for some of the children and families through times of financial hardship. The RYMP board members and participants are looking forward for your support. These resources in our community are a great way to bring the community in Unity and Harmony. Many children and families only have these resources supported by RMAC.
Thank you for partnering with The Rodeo Youth Mentoring Program to make a difference in our community of Rodeo. If you have any questions please feel free to contact us at: Marina Ramos (510)672-9462 or Jasmine Ortiz (510)860-3561
