Alhambra Valley Road to reopen by November 3, 2017

The new bridge to repair Alhambra Valley Road near Castro Ranch Road and Pinole Valley Road intersection is scheduled to reopen by Friday, November 3, 2017. The road was washed out during the 2017 winter storms. The new bridge over Pinole Creek replaces the 1930's era 9-foot steel pipe culvert and will allow for unimpeded fish passage, specifically steelhead. The bridge is 60 feet long and includes shoulders for bicycles and pedestrians.
