"This episode of "Inside Public Works" is an educational and timely sequel to the two episodes we released last year! We hope viewers will gain additional appreciation for the hard work done by our Public Works team of employees in response to the winter storms, the role of the youth programs at our airports, the benefits of these projects for our community members and the county's commitment to working together to address the issue of illegal dumping. This episode of "Inside Public Works" also highlights our department's important partnerships between our communities and other agencies and organizations to help us deliver quality projects that meet the diverse needs of our County and offers information regarding the variety of ways for our customers to report service issues in the unincorporated areas of the county we serve. I am honored to work with such dedicated employees that work every day to improve the quality of life for all the residents of Contra Costa County. I also hope our viewers will ask themselves what they can do to help make Contra Costa a better place for all of us," said Brian Balbas, Contra Costa County Public Works Director.
